

Fucking Åmål - Stars on the way home to you

Alexandra and Rebecca are considering a Sweden tour.

Alexandra Dahlström and Rebecca Liljeberg of Show Me Love might pop up behind the bar at a youth place near you.

They have received bids to serve and mingle as payment.

- This is a chance for them to earn a small fortune, says Mikael Brinkenstierna, artist promoter.

He has struck deals of the same concept with The Graaf Sisters, Svullo, Ronny & Ragge, soap stars and last but not least the cast of Expedition: Robinson.

The demand for Alexandra and Rebecca is at least as big, if not bigger.

- That is correct. I get requests for them every day. I know how much interest there is: nightclubs, municipalities, anti-drug events... Everyone wants them. The movie is really good and the girls are role models and idols.

Fast Money

Their popularity can be converted into income.

- They were very low paid for the movie; really, they should surely be financially independent, given what a success it was. I give them the chance to supplement their finances. My artists earn between five and fifteen thousand a night, says Mikael Brinkenstierna.

Undeniably well paid to serve, mingle and sign autographs. But it remains to be seen if the girls are interested.

- They are investing a lot in the theater and may not want to promote themselves in this way; in that case you just have to accept it.

Brinkenstiernas usually sends celebrities to places with liquor licenses.

- There is no questions of this, of course not, they're only 17 and 14 years old and not even allowed as guests at such sites.

But there are plenty of clubs and parties
for the young and they run alcohol-free, he says.
